Reliable and Secure Communication Between Connected Devices

Automate™ Motorization utilizes a new Radio Frequency platform called "Automate™ Radio Communication" also known as ARC.

The ARC communication protocol utilizes a 433MHz radio frequency, well known for strong, reliable communication in the connected home devices space.

Automate™ ARC protocol also features bi-directional communications, which empowers users and connected systems to experience shade control like never before.

The ARC communication protocol ensures Automate™ equipped motorized shades are reliable and easy to use... paving the way for the window coverings of tomorrow's smart home.
